ASK THE COMMISSION FOR ITS PROTECTION

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The Holly Bprings Compress Company and numerous other cotton compress companies, comprising the Mississippi Compress Association, to-day filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, a petition to intervene in the case of the Planters' Compress Company, against the Cleveland, Clincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Raillorad Company et als. They claim that if the cylinderical compressed bale of cotton is given a differential, as sought by the petition of the Planters' Compress Company, it would practically destroy or mmensely impair the large and valuable compresses and warehouses for the compression and storage of square bale cotton.

ANSWER IS FILED TO COMPLAINT OF COMPANY

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON. July 6.—The Illinois Cetral to-day filed an answer to the suit of the Planters' Compress Company before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The roads admits that its export rates between competitive points on the line and New Orleans are sometimes raised or lowered, because of the fluctuations in cotton rates, but avers that sufficient notice is always given the cotton shipping public. It denies other allegations that certain shippers get large rebates and advantages over others. It also denies that its export rates discriminate against domestic consumption of cotton.

Came to Town, Drank too Much and Got Into Trouble. Man Killed by Lightning.

(Special to -ae Times-Dispatch.)

WELDON, N. C., July û.—Vance Bridgers and his two sons. Adolphus and Aner, who were arrested Saturday for rictous and disporterly conduct, had a hearing before Mayor Gooch this morning and were placed under bonds for their appearance at the next term of Halifax Superior Court.

They live in Northampton county and came over Saturday to celebrate the Fourth, drank freely and used profune language at the Seaboard Afr Line Station in the presence of ladies. When the officer attempted to arrest them the two younger men draw where same all light except and two of the men were placed in Jah, while the third made his escape. A terrible storm passed over Carolina State farms, near here Saturday. A guard named Rodgers was struck by lightning and killed. Lightning struck eleven times in the yard and several people were shocked. The crops on farm No. 1 were badly damaged. No. 2 farm suffered only slightly.

The Weldon fair grounds, owned by Mastands above all others and serves as an accepted type for them.

these transactions, all of which are tarly set forth in the evidence.

Pretended He Had Accomplices.

5. Your committee reached the conclusion that John M. King intentionally produced the bellef in the minds of all three of the contractors, and also of Mr. P. Maloney, that he had accomplices in the Street Committee sufficient to control the situation who shared with him the money so paid and who willingly aided him in the accomplishment of his unlawful designs.

6. That Charles Gasser gave to P. P. Tallaferro the names mentioned in the latter's communication to His Honor, the Mayor of the city of Richmond, as the members of the Street Committee, whom he (Gasser) believed to be King's accomplices, such belief being based not, however, upon any positive statement of King's, but upon the action of said members in the committee.

7. The attention of your committee being thus directed by the statements of the contractors, to the records of the Street Committee, the same were carefully examined, but were found to be equally consistent with the hypothesis that king had accomplices in the committee, or that without accomplices he had adopted a system of tactics, apparently in the interest of the city, which resulted in delays and postponements of bids; and that by this means he had impressed the contractors with the idea that he control ed the situation, and could have bids rejected or awarded, at his pleasure. The records show that in every case of postponement the vote was unanimous-or at least no recorded vote was taken-except in the case of contracts awarded to J. A. Gude at a higher figure only one member of the committee voting in the negative, namely, Mr. William Gibson Jr. The City Engineer testified, however that in this particular case he gave to the Street Committee he sjudgment against awarding the contract to Burton, although the lowest bidd, was rejected, and the contract awarded to J. A. Gude at a higher figure only one member of the committee voting in the negative, namely, Mr. William Gibson Jr. The Ci

S. Your committee, therefore, report that they unanimously reached the conclusion that neither James Bahen, H. C. Glenn, William Gibson, Jr., Morgan R. Mills, Gilbert K. Pollock or the late Mr. Woody, the parties named in the communication from his Honor, the Mayor was shown to be guilty of any corrupt practices in connection with the awarding of contracts to Gudge, Gasser and Weinbrunn, though your committee exhausted every means of producing evidence and witnesses.

S. In view of the damaging character of the festimony introduced against John M. King, your committee felt constrained to afford him an opportunity to appear and introduce any evidence that he might desire in rebuttal. It being learned that he was out of the city, one of his counsel, Mr. W. R. Meredith, was communicated with, who made to the Sergeant-at-Arms of the City Council the following statement:

"Pending his appeal from the verdict and judgment of the Hustings Court,

Mr. King, acting under advice of counsel, does not desire to be present at the meeting of the committee."

In view of this situation, the committee is of the opinion that the right should be reserved to allow John M. King to hereafter appear before the committee if he should so desire, and make any statement in regard to this branch of
